Tales from the Campfire

This story was told by the actor, Peter Ustinov, based on his experience in the Australian outback. They were camped one night in a very remote area. They were sitting around the camp fire, miles from anywhere, a beautiful clear night, stars in the sky, the only sound being the gentle hissing of the billy on the boil. Then, from out of the darkness came a man who, without any introduction, came and sat at their fire. He sat there for a while, and then said, "Do you know, the book, My Universities, by Maxim Gorky, was the best book I have ever read" He then stood up, walked off into the desert, and they did not see him again. Strange things can happen in the bush. Barry Revill

Stalwart Walkers of Our Earlier Days

Clyde Grant

Clyde joined the Club in 1922 and no finer tribute can be paid to him than Alan Budge's reference in "No End to Walking". Alan calls Clyde "A Prolific Walker - Writer - he was a pioneer walker in every sense. He preferred to walk with two or three companions. He was a prolific writer between 1948 and 1969 and contributed seventeen articles to The Melbourne Walker, each a narrative of a long mountain walk. He indulged in great detail, delved into historical aspects of the country he walked over and dug out stories about the old mountain characters who were part of folklore and unknown, or perhaps derided by today's bushwalkers. He made fulsome use of similes, metaphors and other figures of speech as he wrote in an old fashioned style. Perhaps in the future students will turn to Clyde Grant when engaged in research of life in the high mountains during the mid-20th century".

For those who walked in Clyde's footsteps, by his writings they could relive their experiences, and for those who never followed Clyde, they must regret that they never did.

Clyde sub-titled one of his articles "Seeking Our Most Inaccessible Mountains" and this line could well apply to almost all of his trips.

In addition to the seventeen articles mentioned by Budge, Clyde was with Bill Waters on Mt Bogong-Big River– Bogong High Plains in 1924 and was also a member of the famous 24 day trip in the same year. In 1926 he accompanied Bill Waters and three others in a marathon trip from Glencairn to Mt Skene, finishing at Mt Bogong and Tawonga. Sadly no account of this trip nor the route taken survives. In 1928 Clyde was Joe Matthews' companion on the second known crossing of the Barry Mountains. In 1940 he made the first known ascent of Snowy Bluff and repeated the climb a dozen years later.

The name Clyde Grant must surely deserve a place amongst the Club's finest explorer-bushwalkers.

Parliamentary Inquiry into the Control of Invasive Animals on Crown Land

On 5 September, Charlie Ablitt and I provided input and feedback to a hearing of the Parliamentary Inquiry into the Control of Invasive Animals on Crown Land. We stated that deer should be reclassified as feral/pest animals and that we support humane eradication programs for deer, goats, pigs, foxes, horses, rabbits, dogs and cats on public land including national parks.

Bushwalking Victoria considers that the safety of all users of public land is a paramount concern, noting that all shooting activities on public land pose very significant risks. We are concerned that increasing access for recreational shooters on public land and national parks will not eradicate pest animals and will increase risks to bushwalkers.

Our national parks must not be used as game reserves. The recent decision to allow recreational shooters on Snake Island is a worrying precedent in this regard. We also included the specific feedback on feral animals that was provided by Bushwalking Victoria clubs and members.

Now it is time for some bushwalking! I am looking forward to attending the Federations Walks Weekend in the Grampians in October and hope to see you there.

Peter Campbell, President, Bushwalking Victoria

Strengthening Parks Victoria - Your Vision for Parks

In December this year Parks Victoria will reach its 20th anniversary. As part of the celebration it is undertaking the Strengthening Parks Victoria project to reflect on what parks mean to Victorians.

Bushwalkers should take this opportunity to share their experiences, expectations and aspirations for Victorian parks.

Go to <http://lets-talk.parks.vic.gov.au/strengtheningparkss> for more information.

VALE DAN CONDON

Members who knew him will be saddened to learn of the recent death of Dan Condon.

Dan joined the Club seventeen years ago and in that period he was a keen participant in many walks. He also gave regular help in the preparation for posting of the monthly Circular. Prior to email, that was a much bigger job than it is now.

In his youth he had been an active member of the Melbourne Athletic Walking Club and in his later years he found a new outlet for his walking ability. As his walking ability became more limited he found particular pleasure in the Club's periodic bus trips to country walking venues. Members who knew him will miss his company.

The Club extends its sympathy in his loss to his widow, Josephine and their family.
