Our Early Beginnings - Thursday 26 May 1904

Melbourne 'Amateur Walking and Touring Club.

This was over a distance of 60 miles, and it took place on a circular track on the Scotch College Cricket Ground; Three started on the walk, two men and a youth. One Man only, J. Macdonald, completed the full distance.

One hundred and ninety-nine times he went round the track, and was it any wonder that during the last 10 miles he did not recognise some of his best friends.

Ten hours, forty minutes and three seconds Macdonald took to accomplish his task, and it took him some time afterwards to recover sufficiently to know those around him, and all this for a trophy valued at £2 2s.

About a dozen MWC members and visitors attended Kevin's Funeral Mass at St Joseph's Church, Malvern on Thursday 10th November to bid Kevin farewell.

Future Star

One afternoon, Matt's dad picks him up from school. Knowing that the parts for the school play were chosen that day, he asks his son if he got a role. Matt answers " Yes, I play a man who's been married for 20 years".

"That's great son", says his dad.

Next time they might give you a speaking part".

were approved. I will work with my counterparts in other states to share and develop further guidelines to guide and inform bushwalkers.

Andrew Davey from Tasmania was elected as President of Bushwalking Australia. I look forward to working with Andrew and the other Bushwalking Australia Council members over the coming year.

Chris Towers stood down after 45 months as President of Bushwalking Australia, which also marked the end of seven consecutive years in executive roles in both Bushwalking Victoria and Bushwalking Australia. Chris has made a great contribution to promoting and furthering bushwalking with tremendous support from his partner Elaine. I wish them both well for their ‘second retirements’. While in Tasmania, I also picked up a freshly printed copy of The Abels Volume One (2nd edition) and Volume Two edited by Bill Wilkinson. Combined, these books contain a lifetime of great bushwalks in Tasmania.

Proposed National Australia Adventure Activity Standards (AAAS)

Bushwalking Victoria has received a response from Sport and Recreation Victoria to our request for an exemption for recreational bushwalkers and volunteer community groups. While our concerns about the potential impact of these standards on our bushwalking activities were acknowledged, there is no firm commitment to ensure recreational bushwalkers are exempted from them.

If you are concerned about the potential impact these standards may have on your club or your personal bushwalking trips, please consider contacting and meeting with your local State Member of Parliament to raise your concerns.

I will send more detailed information about this to Bushwalking Victoria clubs and members via email.

Joint Management Plan for 10 Gippsland Parks

A draft joint management plan is being developed for 10 parks and reserves that will be managed in a partnership between the Gunaikurnai Traditional Owners and the State of Victoria.

The 10 parks and reserves under joint management are:

Tarra Bulga National Park (1522 ha)

The Knob Reserve (56 ha)

Hearing Better Now

An elderly man was having hearing problems and went to see a specialist. He was fitted with some hearing aids that brought his hearing back to full strength.

After a few weeks the man came back to make sure the new equipment was working properly, which it was.

The specialist said, "It seems perfect. Your family should be delighted you can hear everything now".

"Oh no," the man responded. "I haven't told any of them. I just sit quietly, listening carefully. I've changed my will four times."

From a Management Course

A man is getting into the shower just as his wife is finishing her shower when the doorbell rings. The wife quickly wraps herself in a towel and runs downstairs. When she opens the door there stands Bob, the next-door neighbour.

Before she says a word Bob says "I'll give you $800 to drop the towel. After thinking for a moment the woman drops the towel and stands naked in front of Bob.

After a few seconds Bob hands the $800 and leaves. The woman wraps up in the towel and goes back upstairs. When she gets to the bathroom the husband asks "Who was that?" She replies "It was Bob. The next-door neighbor."

"Great" the husband says, "did he say anything about the $800 he owes me?"

The moral of the story: If you share critical information pertaining to credit and risk with your colleagues you may be able to prevent avoidable exposure.

From the Bushwalking President

Bushwalking Australia AGM

I attended the Bushwalking Australia Annual General Meeting in Hobart in mid-November.  Over two days we shared a lot of information about promoting and progressing bushwalking across Australia.

Sunday 29 January George Bass Walk

Leader: Terry Simpson

Phone: 0400 037 291

Rendezvous & Morning Tea: 9.30 at Punchbowl Coastal Reserve.

Punchbowl coastal reserve parking place is reached by taking the Punchbowl Rd to the end. The turnoff from the B420 onto the Punchbowl Rd is about 2 km before San Remo, the last town before Philip Island. The road is clearly marked.

Map Melway X912, Q 11

Grading: Easy to medium given the walk is hilly and some beach walking, but nothing too difficult.

Distance: From the start at the end of Punchbowl road to the Kilcunda pub is about 8.5kms.

Transport: Private car - A car shuttle will need to be done as walk is one way only from Punchbowl to Kilcunda.

Morning Tea: at 9.30am, before start of walk. Car shuttle to drop some cars at Kilcunda and then walk starts at about 10am.

Walk Details: Location and access - the walk is situated 100 km south east of Melbourne between San Remo and Kilcunda. The walk commences at the parking spot at the southern end of the Punchbowl Road, off the Phillip Island Tourist Road and finishes at the Kilcunda Pub.

The walk looks over a treacherous stretch of water known today as Bass Strait. This area is marked by middens, hidden in the dunes behind sandy beaches along the coast.

Caution must be exercised when undertaking this walk. The track follows a narrow strip of public land along cliff tops, consisting of slashed track through grassland. The track surface can be slippery, so sturdy footwear should be worn. Beaches along the walks are unsuitable for swimming due to the presence of strong undertows, rips and steep sloping sandy bottoms. Fishing or walking near the water's edge can be extremely dangerous; swells and large waves can crash up against the rocky shore line.

Lunch will be early as we will stop on the beach, an ideal spot for lunch.

Note: There are no toilets at the Punchbowl coastal reserve car park. There are toilets at Grantville, about 17kms before turn-off or at San Remo 2km past turnoff.

However, Alan's finest literary achievement was his research and writing of "No End to Walking", sub-titled 'One Hundred Years of Walking' by the Walking Club. This, Alan wrote for the Club's Centenary Year. Sadly, Alan died in 1983, a short time before his work was published by a small group of his friends and walking companions. The total proceeds from this venture were donated to the Anti-Cancer Council of Victoria, who acknowledged the gift by devoting it to form the 'Alan D. Budge Trust Fund' to be devoted to Cancer Research.

During his distinguished membership of almost sixty years Alan served as Tours Officer, 1954-58, President, 1958-61, was elected a Life Member in 1965 and was Magazine Editor 1968-1983.

Stalwart Walkers of Our Earlier Days

Alan D Budge

Alan joined the Club in 1935, after having bushwalked from 1930. He quickly became involved in Club activities and wrote his first article for 'The Melbourne Walker' in 1937. Over the next fifty years his regular walking provided the material for more than twenty articles penned above his own name, in addition to the others he wrote over a pseudonym. A number of his walks were also recorded by companions with whom he walked. There was scarcely a forest or mountain area in the state where Alan failed to leave his footprints.

Alan served as Assistant during Reggie Mann's period of editorship of "The Melbourne Walker" and then succeeded to editorship for the fifteen years 1968-1983. During this period, Alan built the readership of what was the leading bushwalking magazine, to in excess of 3,000 copies, which represented a readership of more than ten times the Club's membership. Alan's literary ability was acknowledged by Laure Bell in a tribute he paid to Alan in the 1992 issue of the magazine - "A.D. Budge's Writings of Walkers, Gypsies of the Road and of Letters".
