1914 but he then went on to become the President of the club from 1915 until his death in 1948.

Under his leadership the Federation of Victorian Walking Clubs (now known as Bushwalking Victoria) was established in 1934 and he was the first President. He was admitted to practice as a solicitor in Victoria in 1890.

Curiously there is no mention of Briggs or his legacy in the 1948 or 1949 editions of the "Melbourne Walker" magazine nor is there much reference to him in the histories of the club "Footsteps From The Past" or "No End To Walking".

Apart from his interest in walking and the bush he was also a member of the Brighton Technical School Council from 1925 until 1945 and he served as the Mayor of Brighton in 1925 and as a councillor until 1927. This notice was published in the 1948 edition of the school magazine known as "Seaspray" (courtesy Tony Cagney).

Westward Ho!

The method of locating north by aligning the hour hand on a watch with the direction of the sun is well known to walkers.

A problem arises with digital watches and this has been discussed in recent issues of the magazine New Scientist. A correspondent from New Zealand has proposed a novel solution: "Whirl the digital watch around your head and let it go, in which case it has gone west. A simple 90 degree turn in the appropriate direction then gives north or south."

From "The Walker" magazine, Vol 62, 1991, page 21.
"The Walker" was published by the Club from 1929 to 1991.

The Way Things Were

The visitors' book from the old Austral Alps Hotel at Lightning Creek, between Tallangatta and Omeo, had an entry recording that on a walking trip through Bright, Tawonga, Bogong High Plains and Glen Wills, A. J. Day, P. D. Flowers, Heber Green, C. Gardner and R. H. Croll, well-known names in Walking Club circles, stayed at the hotel. Beneath this entry is some verse which I strongly suspect came from the pen of R. H. Croll. Here it is ...

Now this is the way of the Walking Club,
It takes a train to a wayside pub,
Where it stops for a meal and a drink and a talk,
But the very last thing it does is to walk.

Abridged extract from an article by Rege Mann,
The Melbourne Walker, Vol 16, 1945, pp. 42-44.

Who Was Walter Briggs

Most members will be aware that our hut at Mt Donna Buang is named in honour of Walter Briggs, but who was Walter (Wally) Ernest Briggs? He was born in 1867 and died in 1948 aged 81. The club was founded in 1894 by Arthur Barrett and Walter Briggs. It was then known as the Melbourne Amateur Walking and Touring Club. However Briggs continued to serve the club as an office bearer for a remarkable period of over fifty years. He was both the Secretary and Treasurer from 1896 to
